KISS AND MAKE UP.

Judge Withrow's Advice to Mr. and
Mrs. Alexander Buttweiler.PROCEEDINGS IN THE HABEAS CORPUS
CASE BROUGHT BY THE HUSBAND.The Custody of the Child Awarded to the Mother and the Father Permitted to See It Three Times a Week—Suit
Against Base Ball Manager Von der Ahe.

The Buttweiler habeas corpus case, in which Alexander Buttweiler of 8057 Evans avenue is seeking the return of his son, was adjourned by Judge Withrow, Jr., of the 2nd circuit, until next morning before Judge Withrow, sitting in chambers. Mr. Buttweiler, who is 23 years old, is separated from his wife, who has returned to her father, William Watson of 3195 Brantner place, taking his baby with her. Young Buttweiler has also returned to his father's house.

All the parties to the suit, including friends and relatives, were present in court. Alexander, Jr., "made the case look like a man's man who had baffled the efforts of his mother and the court sheriff to suppress." Mr. Buttweiler took the stand and related the story of his marital difficulties. He and his wife, he stated, had been separated for a long time, but there was a letter relating to a loan of $15. The letter was from a Mrs. Weston. She had given him a loan of $15, and he had given her a loan of $15. Witness and his wife were living then at 1447 Francis street. Weston had given him a loan of $15, and he stated at the time the quarrel took place and told his daughter to come home. Witness told him he had given the loan, but that he would not prevent her from doing so.

Asked by the court, Witness in response to a question, if he knew that his wife would leave the baby at her mother's and go down to the park, "Is it not a fact?" Lawyer Stillwell, Mr. Buttweiler's attorney, addressing the witness, "that you said to your wife that you did not want her to have the baby?"

"That you were too young to be seen with a baby?" The witness admitted that he had made such a statement.

Mr. Buttweiler was placed on the stand and stated that the quarrel about the letter occurred in the fall of 1889. He received a letter from a woman and she asked him to explain it and he refused to do so. Witness was asked if he had any good or bad attorney, regarding her capabilities for supporting the child. She replied, "I have a good attorney, he is married and works again. Mr. Goode asked her what she did, and she replied that she played the piano in the evenings.

After the trial, the court stated that he saw no reason why the couple should not come together again and made an order awarding the child to the custody of the mother and ordered the father to pay $25 a month for the support of the minor child. The father saw the child three times a week, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays between the hours of 5 and 6 o'clock p.m.

Suing Von der Ahe.

The suit of William J. Gray of Detroit against Base Ball Manager Christ Von der Ahe for a breach of contract had an airing to-day in the Circuit Court in this city, where the suit is pending. The suit was filed on June 20, 1890. Mr. Von der Ahe entered into a contract with the Detroit Base Ball Association for the purchase of the team. Billings, Higginson and Virtue, and only took one, namely, Higgins, for whose release Mr. Von der Ahe is suing. The suit was filed on June 20, 1890, and gives $1,665.75 for WHEELock and Virtue. It is alleged, but failed to do so. He made a written demand for payment at this time by the filing of two demands, the case which were taken to Detroit, July 12, Merrill B. Morris, President of the Detroit Base Ball Association, and filed on June 23 or 24 of 1890 Mr. Von der Ahe conferred with him at Detroit for the purchase of the team. WHEELock and Virtue, and only took one, namely, Higgins, for whose release Mr. Von der Ahe is suing. The suit was filed on June 20, 1890, and gives $1,665.75 for WHEELock and Virtue.

William J. Gray testified that he was the attorney for Von der Ahe. His testimony was also in regard to the alleged contract and was of a similar nature to that of Mr. Mills.

Judge Klein's Court.

Judge Klein's Court was in session to-day and a number of motions were passed on in cases which will go over until the October term. The Court handed down four decisions of cases which had been held under advisement. In the case of Michael and George L. D. Morris and others, a suit involving the title to a piece of property, growing out of the old disputed land between the Jones and the Peter Lindell plaintiff, who holds under the Peter Lindell title. Possession and $50 damages were awarded to the plaintiff.

In the case of Morgan Davis against Prudential Insurance Co. of America, a motion to dismiss was granted. His testimony was also in regard to the alleged contract and was of a similar nature to that of Mr. Mills.

A. R. Taylor was the plaintiff's lawyer and attorney for the defendant. Mr. Charles, County, and the well known as the prosecutor, in the Vail case, and the defendant, James H. Scullin, purchasing agent of the railway company; C. B. Barron, Superintendent of the Jones City, and the electrical expert, were all in court. There were a large number of witnesses and expert witnesses called to the distance in which motor cars could be stopped and the distance in which the accident were put on the stand.
